The General's Letter.

Again I find my hands so full that 1 an do little more than apologise for my sual letter. I must, however, have a word of congratulation on account of the passing of the Bill for the better protec passing of the Bill for the better protec-tion of young site, for which we have fought this short sharp battle, and which is now the law of the land. Let we praise God for this. I am intensally thinkful for the success, seeing their its areward for dear Mar. Josephine Butter and her comrades, and for the Editor of the "Pall Mail Grastle," who really risked much in the contait, and to those of two comrades. Should be the state of the comof my comrades who took the matter se ighly to heart, and responded so unselfishly to the calls made upon them.

The Bill is only an instalment of the true measure of justice due to woman; still it is an instalment, and unless I am mistaken a very substantial one. mutation a very substantial one. And it is soviced wisely and persovaringly, it will prove only the beginning of the end of a vest mountain of vile iniquity. that now exalts its proud head to the heavest—iniquity of more kinds than one. For the vices of every class march in company, and when one is present the others are never far away.

never far eway.

Anyhow, while we thank God for the success He has given it the first effort of The Salvation Army to improve the laws of the nation, and prey that God may use the measure to put an end to some of the infamous industries that have been expected curing the last few weaks, we must proceed the ring the last few weaks, we must proceed to the adoption of such measures as seen likely to make the law productive the largest amount of thesetag to those the largest amount of the stage of the largest amount of the largest
